

Affiliation to Global Justice Now

This branch/group/organisation notes:

- The growing power of multinational corporations in the last few decades, causing growing inequality, privatisation and environmental destruction.
- A worrying rise in racist and authoritarian nationalism in both the global north and the global south.
- That Global Justice Now runs effective campaigns on trade justice, the power of multinational corporations, climate justice and migrant rights, and works as part of a global movement for change.

This branch/group/organisation believes:

- That we are part of an international movement for social and economic justice alongside unions, social movements and people's organisations globally.
- That international solidarity is vital if we a world where people come before profit.

This branch/group/organisation resolves:

- To affiliate to Global Justice Now at a rate of £35/year*.
- To distribute information about Global Justice Now's campaigns to members, and involve the branch/group in those campaigns as appropriate.

£35 is the rate for local organisations. For regional or national organisations, please see the affiliation form.*